Dromedary

schleich WILD LIFE Dromedary:

The dromedary from schleich® WILD LIFE has, like in nature, just one hump. It is also known as a one-humped camel.

Dromedaries live in the deserts of Africa and Asia. They eat mostly leaves, dry grass and thorny plants. The hump of the mammal isn't used to store water; it stores fat. If they can't find any food in the desert they can live off it for weeks. The dromedary from schleich® WILD LIFE has eaten well recently and has an upright, well-filled hump.
