Garlic press

WMF 1871636030 Stainless steel:

The garlic press is a practical tool for handling garlic cloves. Simply remove the skin from the garlic glove, insert in the garlic press and push through. Your hands stay clean and the garlic ends up where it belongs. Crushing with a garlic press releases an enzyme from the garlic which studies have shown to be beneficial for the cardiovascular system in people. You not only save time in the preparation stage, you are also doing something positive for your health.
